Volume X, Issue 6

Business Meeting: 3rd Tuesday of each month at the Montgomery County Library...7:00PM

President's Corner

Things are drying up from what researchers have called "a 500 year flood". I hope everyone is safe. God will provide for your needs if you trust in Him. If there is anything that anyone needs please let us know. We had a good cruise to Franklin, Ky for our last cruise-in.

Thanks Jim for a job well done in setting this up while Tom was out.

Our sell-a-thon was well represented with 38 cars for sale at one time. We hope the owners either sold or took names for future sales. The cruise-ins are well under way and shows are starting up. Let's get out and support the local ones. It's going to be a busy year. I will end with this.... "For what will it profit a man if he gains the whole world and loses his soul? Let us always remember what is most important in life.

Todd Rorie

New Member Profile

Introducing Lee & Sue Proctor who live near Ashland City and Pleasant View, TN. Originally, Lee is from the Joelton area and Sue from the Springfield area. Lee attended Joelton High School, while Sue attended Parkview High School in Springfield. They met while attending a Swap Meet in Nashville, TN.

Lee is a retired Master Plumber and continues to work part-time with Jones Bros. Construction. Sue retired as a Legal Assistant with a local Law Firm and works part-time at the Cheatham County Court Clerks office.

In addition to the classic cars, Lee enjoys wood working and Sue enjoys Master Gardening Clubs and the Civitans.

They both enjoy the classic cars and currently own a Mustang and an El Camino. They have shown the Mustang from Florida to Kentucky to Arkansas and enjoyed every mile along the way.

We welcome Lee and Sue to Memory Lane Cruisers and wish them more and more trophies with their cars.

New Member Profile

Introducing Mike & Brenda Myatt who live in Adams, TN. Mike grew up in the Burns, TN area and Brenda is from the Dickson area. They both attended Dickson High School and that's where they met.

Mike is retired from The Trane Company and was a Manufacturing Engineer for 21 years and production worker for 10 years. Mike retired in 2008.

In 2004, Mike started restoring a 1967 Mustang and that got him interested in buying and selling used parts. Now Mike sells on Ebay, old car parts from the 60's and enjoys every minute doing it.

Currently Mike drives a 1964 Ford Galaxie and is working on a 1964 Ford Ranchero. Waiting in the shadows is his 1966 Galaxie 500XL Convertible and a 1967 Mustang Convertible.

Now we know why Mike retired in 2008....he has a lot of projects and needs all the time that's available.

We appreciate you joining our club and look forward to seeing all your projects come to life.

Antifreeze – Red, Green or Universal.....That is the Question!

Every Spring we work on getting our classics ready for the road and this year our car's maintenance log shows that our car needs a coolant system flush. So we venture off to the Auto Parts store to buy our conventional green coolant, when we noticed that various brands offering a "universal coolant" claim to be good for any year, make and model.

Typically, we always stick with the manufacturers recommended fluids but are intrigued by only needing one type of coolant on hand for our newer and older cars. Our older cars use an "inorganic acid" coolant and is green in color. Our newer cars uses the new "organic acid technology", or OAT and is orange in color.

The promise of OAT is long life corrosion protection, six years / 100,000 miles instead of two years / 50,000 miles that is typical with the old green stuff. But it can eat away at our older style radiators with lead solder and erode metals in other areas of their cooling systems.

So back to the house, fire up the ole computer and "google" search on the "universal coolant" option.

We found new universal coolants use a unique OAT based corrosion packages with proprietary organic acids (such as carboxylate) to provide broad spectrum protection. And after consulting with local mechanics who have been using the newer technology without incident, we found compelling arguments to try a universal coolant in our classics on these conditions:

Completely flush the old coolant from radiator and engine

Continue the 2 year / 50,000 mile schedule

Periodically test the coolant pH, nitrite and freeze point

So now one can carry one brand of coolant for all cars which saves needed space in your garage.

And now a word from the "Po'Boy"

Now I'm your friendly undertaker, let me take you for a fast spin, Yep, I'm your friendly undertaker, let me take you for a fast spin. I got a big long black wagon, that everybody is dying to ride in. Now I offer 23 hour service, call me cause I never sleep, but I do love to eat. I will bury you deep and cheap. Also I will take you cruising down thru the valley, across the meadows and around the winding roads in my big black wagon with a big back door with honeysuckle smell and whipperwills sing at dusk. If you don't have much money. Let me give a helping hand, yep I'm your friendly undertaker, you can use my lay-away-plan. I've got a big black wagon with a big wide back door and you will be riding in style. If you are hot you can ride cool and if you are cold you can ride warm. I even got four in the floor and if you look hard you may find a 5th under the seat. I got a CD player that holds 10 CD's. in this big long black wagon. It's got bucket seats, so you can ride shotgun. It's your choice in my big long black wagon.
